#THEFORGOTTENSOLUTION

Greetings from Papua New Guinea!

Oh man, you should see this place! Oh MAN-GROVE, I should have said. The intertidal forests out here are just amazing – not just for Instagram posing of course and wildlife habitat, but the huge amounts of carbon they suck out of the atmosphere and store in their incredible, open-air root systems. They have such potential as a natural climate solution to help us fight global warming – but they face all sorts of threats right now, from pollution to coastal development. It would be a real BEACH to lose them!
